Opera fans watch for dark skies

Belfast opera fans will be watching the skies this week as they prepare for a night of outdoor virtual opera.

Botanic Gardens in Belfast is hosting a live broadcast of La Boheme on Thursday night, from London's Royal Opera House.

The tragic tale of the love of a sick working girl for a poet in 18th century Paris is the third time Opera in the Park has come to the city.

Last year rain caused a lot of problems and with rain forecast again organisers are urging people to dress appropriately.

The council said the free performance, which is also shown simultaneously in a number of English cities, is a chance to see the rising stars of opera in action.

Gates open at 17.00, with entertainment on the Great Lawn from 17.15, featuring the Irish Three Tenors.

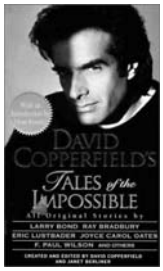

The main performance, broadcast from Covent Garden, starts at 21.30.

0) The performance is taking place in the London Opera House.	0)	A
16) Some of the people performing the opera will be singers from abroad.	16)

20) It is the first time the programme has been organised.	20)
21) People in Belfast won't have to buy tickets to see the opera.	21)
22) The programme will start with a performance by the Irish Three Tenors at five o'clock in the afternoon.	22)
23) La Boheme will start at quarter past nine in the evening.	23)

0) ----------
Well, fortunately, I love what I do, so even with this schedule, I never tire of performing in my chosen profession, the Art of Magic!

0)	C

24) ----------
I became interested in magic at an early age. I learned a card trick from my grandfather when I was seven.

24)

25) ----------
Well, when I began doing magic and brought this skill into school, I found out that it was quite an attention-getting magnet. And, as time went by, it really seemed to catch the eyes of the girls in school!

25)

26) ----------
I would say, "Practice, practice, practice, and never consider anything impossible!"

26)

27) ----------
There really is nothing else I would rather have been. Although I did try my hand as a singer early in my career (when I was 19) in the hit show MAGIC MAN in Chicago...

27)

28) ----------
Project Magic is what I am most proud of in my career. It is in 1,000 hospitals in over 30 countries around the world. This is a program that has made the lives of many people a lot better.

28)

29) ----------

29)

I stand on the shoulders of the great magicians of the past and I hope that my contributions will have helped to raise the Art of Magic even higher.

30) ----------
Magic has certainly made my life very special and allowed me the chance to make many of my dreams a reality onstage.

30)

A When did you first become interested in magic?

B Some people describe you as "the next Houdini", or "the most popular magician of all time". How do you want to be remembered?

C You do almost 500 performances a year. Do you ever think of slowing down?

D I've read that the reason you started in magic was to overcome some difficulties in growing up. Did it help you make more friends and get a few dates in high school?

E Which part of your career are you most proud of?

F Have you ever thought of working in other areas of entertainment?

G You have a famous illusion of making the Statue of Liberty disappear. Are you planning to do something that might beat that?

H What advice would you give to beginner magicians?

I What has magic offered you in your life?
