Fontos tudnivalók

- Az utasításokat pontosan kell követni. Csak az utasításban megadott helyre beírt megoldás fogadható el.
- Mindig csak egy megoldást szabad beírni.
- A betűjelek legyenek jól olvashatóak, az esetleges javítások pedig egyértelműek.
- A megadott szószámot nem szabad túllépni. Az összevont alakok egy szónak számítanak (pl. "it's" egy szó, "it is" két szó).

Task 1

- In the following interview with Jane, who is a nurse, the questions have been removed.
- Your task is to read the text and match the questions (A-K) with the answers (1-8).
- There is one extra question that you do not need.
- Write the letters in the white boxes. An example (0) has been given for you.

0)_____

Almost 9 years.

1)_____

When I was six years old, I was in hospital to have my tonsils removed. The nurse, Brenda, was so sweet and helpful. On leaving the hospital, I told my mum I was going to be a nurse when I grew up.

2)_____

My mother wanted to be a nurse, but she had an aunt who was a nurse and who discouraged her.

3)_____

It was great. We had doctors who did most of our lectures and were experts in their fields.

4)_____

I started working in a hospital.

5)_____

Most of them took us under their wings and gave us plenty of chances to improve. They remembered how it felt when they started.

6)_____

Helping patients understand their illness and relax, and seeing them get better.

7) _____

Yes, infection and physical injury are the main risks.

8)_____

Keeping a balance between my work and the rest of my life is not always easy. It has been even more difficult since I started a family, but fortunately hospitals allow a flexible schedule.

A) What do you like most about your job?

B) What was your first job?

~~C) How long have you been a nurse?~~

F) What advice would you give someone who wants to be a nurse?

G) How did you decide to become a nurse?

H) Have you ever felt that your job places you in danger?

Task 2

- Read the comments (9-15) on an Internet forum about school uniforms.
- Your task is to match each comment with one of the sentences (A-I).
- Write the appropriate letters in the white boxes as in the example (0).
- Remember that there is an extra letter that you will not need.

0)
I am not wealthy, but clothes are not so expensive nowadays. You can buy nice shirts and trousers for less than the cost of such uniforms.

9)
We got sent home from school for wearing trousers in protest against a dress code that said girls had to wear dresses.

10)
Why not let the kids decide? If they want to wear the uniform they can, and if not then not.

11)
Uniforms are pointless anachronisms that most of us hate now as much as we did 25 years ago when we were at school.

12)
Why do pupils complain? People like firefighters, nurses and policemen are also expected to wear uniforms, and to go against those requirements might mean losing their jobs.

13)
Does school uniform really matter? I think the education system has, so clearly, forgotten what it's supposed to do – to spread knowledge and teach skills to our sons and daughters.

14)
When I was at school, despite having a uniform, it was easy to tell who was from a better economic background. You just had to look at the bags, shoes and haircuts. I am sure it hasn't changed.

15)
I remember I had a lot of difficulties when I was at secondary school, but at least I didn't have to worry about whether I was fashionable enough. Luckily, we had school uniforms at my school.

~~C) school uniforms can be more expensive than other clothes.~~

11)

D) some people haven't changed their negative opinions about school uniforms.

12)

E) school uniforms can help teenagers feel less stressed about what they look like.

13)

F) pupils should have the right to choose if they want to wear a uniform.

G) pupils who have to wear uniforms are usually very polite.

14)

H) some pupils were not allowed to stay at school because they broke school rules.

I) some adults have to wear uniforms when they are working.

PLASTIC BOTTLES OUT!

The Australian town of Bundanoon, locally called Bundy, has banned the sale of bottled water, attracting attention from around the world. A community meeting last night took the unusual step, making it the first town in Australia, possibly the world, to ban bottled water.

The Bundy on Tap campaign will see still bottled water replaced by reusable plastic bottles that can be bought, and then filled up for free at water stations throughout the town. The campaign was the idea of Huw Kingston, who owns the local bike shop. Mr Kingston says he is happy with the decision but surprised by the great interest in his idea.

After doing more than 70 media interviews yesterday, Mr Kingston was still receiving calls from the BBC, as well as New Zealand and Japanese media, last night.

The locals are also stunned by their new-found fame. "I've been following it on the internet and this is truly amazing," one resident said.

The idea has caught on as New South Wales Premier Nathan Rees ordered all State Government departments and agencies to stop buying bottled water. "We want to move away from bottled water because of the pollution," he said.

Last night, more than 350 people voted on Bundanoon's proposal to ban the sale of bottled water by the end of the year.

A representative of the bottled water lobby stood in front of the gathering to defend the industry, but only one local resident agreed with him. "There's a far bigger health issue, which is the diabetes issue. If we're taking away water from the shops, they will then sell only sugar drinks. I think we're on the wrong track," he said.

But a show of hands made it clear that Bundy locals were ready to ban the bottle.

(www.abc.net.au)

0) The people of Bundanoon call their town Bundy for short.

0)	A

16) Last night Bundanoon decided to join other towns on the continent in banning bottled water.

17) You will be able to buy reusable bottles filled up with still water.

18) Huw Kingston had never been on television before.

19) Mr. Kingston and other local residents share the same feeling about the media attention.

20) Nathan Rees believes that bottled water has a negative effect on the environment.

21) Last night's vote took place in the City Hall.

22) All the citizens of Bundanoon say that the ban is a good idea.

Task B

Post subject: Is this a ridiculous idea?

I need 3 Advanced-level subjects to enter university. Unfortunately only two of the courses offered at my school are suitable for me.

So, I have an idea: ask the school to let me sit Advanced-level Italian next summer. I'd have to prepare for the exam entirely on my own, as the subject isn't offered here.

I'm about to e-mail the headteacher to ask her opinion, but I'd appreciate any comments on this.
