Fontos tudnivalók

- Az utasításokat pontosan kell követni.

  Csak az utasításban megadott helyre beírt megoldás fogadható el.

- Mindig csak egy megoldást szabad beírni.
- A betűjelek legyenek jól olvashatóak, az esetleges javítások pedig egyértelműek.
- A megadott szószámot nem szabad túllépni.
  Az összevont alakok egy szónak számítanak (pl. "it's" egy szó, "it is" két szó).

Task 1

- In the following interview with the Korean singer Psy, whose "Gangnam Style" has become the most-liked video on YouTube, the questions have been removed.
- Your task is to match the questions (A- I) and the answers (1-7).
- There is one extra question that you do not need.
- Write the letters in the white boxes as in the example *(0).

HIS STYLE IS GANGNAM, AND VIRAL TOO

0)*_____

I released the song on July 15 and I didn't see anything for 10 days. After 10 days a lot of celebrities celebrated my video on Twitter. At that time I realized this was happening.

1)_____

I studied hard to find something new. We spent like a month to find the ones we were satisfied with. In Korea there are huge expectations about my dancing. So it was a lot of pressure.

2)_____

I don't think this dance is suitable for such an event. This is not a formal dance, this is a cheesy dance! But still, I appreciate that.

3)_____

Of course. We learn from your pop — we get inspired.

4)_____

No, in the end I dropped out — classes were too early for me.

5)_____

My lifetime favourite and hero is Freddie Mercury of Queen and I also like Bon Jovi, Aerosmith and Guns N' Roses — I had a huge rock-band mania.

6)_____

I tried to compose a song — I was in the United States and it was all about hip-hop at the time, '99-2000. But my music is a mixture right now, I'm doing rockable dance, or danceable rock.

7)_____

I'm a family man, I try to spend time with my two sons.

(http://www.nytimes.com)

0)	C

A) Do you listen to much American music?

B) How did you move from that to your sound?

~~C) When did you get a sense that "Gangnam Style" would hit differently?~~

D) How did you come up with the dance moves?

E) Do you write the lyrics of your songs?

F) It's also become quite a popular wedding dance, hasn't it?

G) What kind of music did you listen to growing up?

H) What do you do when you're not performing?

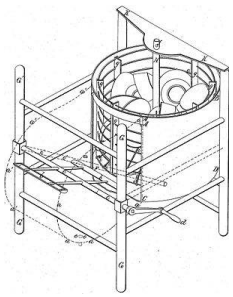

I) You studied at Boston University and Berkley College of Music. Did you graduate?

Task 2

- Read the following text about the story of the dishwasher.
- Your task is to put the sentences (A-G) in the correct order and write the letters in the boxes as shown in the example (0).
- There is one extra letter that you do not need.

The first dishwasher appeared in 1850 when a man named Joel Houghton made a machine out of wood that splashed water over the dishes inside when you turned a handle.

0) _____

8) _____

9) _____

She also liked to entertain friends and frequently held social events at her home, which resulted in a lot of dishes needing to be washed each time.

10) _____

11) _____

12) _____

There were small baskets made of wire for the plates and cups, and hot soapy water poured out on them like rain, which made the washing very effective.

She showed her invention in the 1893 World's Fair in Chicago, and won its highest award.

(http://ezinearticles.com)

0)	C

A) She built a machine which had a wooden wheel in a metal boiler which could either be turned by hand or driven by a power source.

B) The cups and saucers she used for entertaining were expensive and were often broken by the servants while they were washing up.

8)

~~C) The second one was created by a man named L.A. Alexander in 1865, and this new dishwasher spun the dishes around in water when you turned a handle.~~

9)

D) The real breakthrough was made by Josephine Cochrane, a wealthy woman, whose grandfather was a famous inventor, and who was interested in engineering.

10)

E) Manufacturers have taken different ways to keep their dishwashers as quiet as possible.

11)

F) She got so fed up with this that she decided to build a dishwasher that could wash dishes quickly without breaking them.

G) Both of these were very simple and made only of wood, and did not actually clean dishes very well.

12)

Task 3

- Read this article about online dating then read the statements (13-20) following it.
- Mark a statement A if it is true according to the article.
- Mark it B if it is false.
- Mark it C if, on the basis of the article, it cannot be decided if it is true or false.
- Write the letters in the white boxes as in the example (0).

IS INTERNET DATING KILLING ROMANCE?

I'm not surprised to hear, this week, that Britain has the highest internet dating turnover of any European nation. More than nine million Britons have logged on to a dating site. Ten years ago, people would rather hang over a crocodile pit than admit they met online. But today the climate is much less disapproving. Dating has changed extremely fast. It had to. Not only does the UK have a high concentration of single people, but many of us work in virtually single-sex environments. Couples I know are too busy to have dinner parties. We lack the village hall dances our parents went to. Like people in the US, we welcome different ways to meet. A third of all new relationships start online. It's our best matchmaker. Among my friends, I don't know anyone who hasn't met online.

Survey results reveal the British to be enlightened and open-minded about how we meet a significant other. As someone who fell in love online, I do think internet dating is a good thing. Of course it's lovely to meet in "real life". The fact that someone has walked across a room and chosen you is a great help. But that room is getting smaller. Sign up to a dating website and you have more than 1,000 matches. Of course you won't always fancy each other. But you can at least be kind and friendly for an hour. To be honest, the first meeting isn't a date. You're meeting for a chat to see if you would like to spend more time together.

Yes, it can feel a bit like an audition. But it's good to be put into a situation where you have to put your cards on the table. And I guess in my job I develop email relationships with so many people, it no longer seems odd to "meet" online.

(The Observer)

0)	A

~~0) Internet dating is more popular in Britain than in other countries in Europe.~~

13) Most Brits use the same dating agency to meet new people.

14) British people used to be less open about online dating some ten years ago.

15) There are too few places for people to meet.

16) The writer has persuaded a number of friends to sign up with an agency.

17) The writer's personal experiences of online dating are positive.

18) 'Real life' meetings carry more risks than those over the internet.

19) It's best to be honest in a first meeting and to be friendly only if you like the person.

20) The writer recommends playing games during the first meeting.

Task 4

- In this article about saving the environment some parts of sentences have been left out.
- Your task is to reconstruct the story by filling in the gaps from the list.
- Write the letters (A-L) in the white boxes next to the numbers (21-29) as in the example (0).
- There is one extra letter that you will not need.

THE GREEN THING

Checking out at Tesco, the young cashier suggested to the older woman that she should bring her own grocery bags because plastic bags weren't good for the environment. The old woman (0) _____ , "We didn't have this green thing back in my earlier days." The assistant responded, "That's our problem today. Your generation (21) _____ about saving our environment for future generations."

The old woman was right – our generation didn't have the green thing in its day. Back then, we returned milk bottles, soft drink bottles and beer bottles to the shop. The shop sent them back to the plant (22) _____ , so it could use the same bottles over and over. We walked up stairs because we didn't have a lift or escalator in every store and office building. We walked to the grocers and didn't climb into a 200-horsepower machine every time we (23) _____ .

Back then, we washed the baby's nappies because we (24) _____. We dried clothes on a line, not in an energy-gobbling machine burning up 2000 watts – wind and solar power really (25)_____ back then. Kids got hand-me-down clothes from their brothers or sisters, not always brand-new clothing.

Back then, we had one TV or radio in the house – not a TV in every room. We didn't fire up an engine and burn petrol just (26) _____ . When we were thirsty we drank from a tap instead of drinking from a plastic bottle of water (27) _____ .

Back then, people took the bus – and kids rode their bikes to school or walked instead of (28) _____ . We had one electrical socket in a room, not an entire bank of sockets to power a dozen appliances. And we didn't need to switch on a computerised gadget to receive a signal beamed from satellites 2,000 miles out in space (29) _____ the nearest fish and chip shop.

But she was right. We didn't have the green thing in our day.

Welcome to the Listening component of the Matura Examination.

The listening material and the instructions are recorded on this CD, and the tasks and instructions are printed in your test booklet.

- There will be three tasks, and every recording will be played twice.
- The tasks will begin with some music, and then you will hear (and you can also read) the instructions to the task.
- This will be followed by a silent period on the CD in order to give you some time to look at the task in your test booklet before hearing the text.
- Then we will play the recording in one piece.
- After another short silent period we will play the recording for the second time, but now in shorter sections and with breaks between the sections in order to give you enough time to write down your answers.

Please note that the first item in each task (marked with a tick [✓]) is always an example.

The whole test is exactly 30 minutes long.

Good luck!

TASK 1

- In this section, you are going to hear some information about the New Wembley Stadium.
- Your task will be to circle the letter(s) of the correct answer(s) in the boxes on the right. Please note that in this task both answers may be correct. However, there is always at least one correct answer. This means you might have to circle one or two letters.
- First, you will have some time to look at the task, and then we will play the whole recording in one piece.
- Then, after a short pause, you will hear the recording again, but this time we will play the text in shorter sections to give you enough time to write down your answers.

Task B

You received the following email from your American friend, Erin:

Hi!

You've got to help me! Here's the problem...

Last Wednesday when I got home from school I saw that my school-report had been sent to my parents, and it was lying on the kitchen table. I knew something was weird straight away when they greeted me saying: "Nice report, Honey! We knew you could do it!" When I picked it up this is what I saw: English: A, Math: A-, World Civilization: B+, Chemistry: A. The problem is that I'm absolutely sure that the chemistry grade was wrong, as unfortunately I got a C- on the exam. Mr Thompson, the teacher, must have either miscalculated my grade, or hit a wrong key when he was entering the grades. And now what? I don't know what to do. Should I tell my parents or the teacher?

You remember Rachel, my best friend at school? I called her immediately and she said: "Why should you say anything? It was the teacher's mistake, not yours. That grade could decide whether or not you get into the college you want." I can see her point but I have to decide for myself if I can live with the idea of always knowing that the grade was a lie.

I need your advice ASAP!!
