GIRL DISCOVERS VIKING SWORD

Every summer, we go to stay in a cabin by lake Vidöstern in southern Sweden. I like to play on the beach.

0) _____

9) _____

10) _____

I ran to my mum shouting, "I found a sword!" She said it looked like a Viking sword. Daddy got so excited that he didn't even watch the football match.

11) _____

12) _____

Unfortunately, I had to give the sword to the local museum – Daddy explained it's part of history.

13) _____

I am not a lady, but it's true I found a sword in the lake. I wouldn't mind being queen for a day, but when I grow up, I want to be a vet.

(www.theguardian.com)

A) The next day dad showed the sword to an archaeologist. She called it "sensational". She asked us to keep it a secret.

0)	C

B) People are saying I am the queen of Sweden, because in the legend of King Arthur, he was given a sword by a lady in a lake, and he became king.

9)

~~C) One sunny day last summer, Daddy told me to get a buoy from the cabin to warn any boats because the water level was dangerously low.*~~

10)

D) The archaeologist went to the beach too, and she also found a small medal. Then she announced the news, so it wasn't secret any more.

E) The waves were so big because of the storm that I had to be very careful.

11)

F) I went into the water with the buoy. Daddy asked me to hurry so he could watch the World Cup final, but I didn't rush.

12)

G) The fishermen on the boat asked if they could stay in the cabin until the water level was high again.

13)

H) I was in the water, when I felt something long and hard in the sand. I pulled it out and shouted, "Look what I've found! I think it's a sword!"

- Mark it C if there is not enough information in the text to decide if the sentence is true or not.

- Write your answers in the white boxes next to the numbers as in the example (0).
- A = TRUE B = FALSE C = THE TEXT DOES NOT SAY

UBANG: THE NIGERIAN VILLAGE WHERE MEN AND WOMEN SPEAK DIFFERENT LANGUAGES

In Ubang, a farming community in southern Nigeria, men and women say they speak different languages. Wishing to demonstrate the two different languages, village chief Oliver Ibang calls over his two young children.

He holds up a cup and asks his daughter what it is called. "It's ogbala," she says, without thinking for a moment. But in Ubang's "male language" the word for cup is nko. There are some other examples, such as the word for clothing, which is nki for men and ariga for women.

It is not clear exactly how many words are different in the two languages. Also, there is no pattern, such as whether the words are commonly used or linked to traditional roles for men or women. There are a lot of words that men and women have in common, then there are others which are totally different depending on your sex. They don't sound alike, they don't have the same letters, they are completely different words. However, both men and women are able to understand each other as well as anywhere else in the world. This might be partly because boys grow up speaking the female language, as they spend most of their childhoods with their mothers and other women. However, by the age of 10, boys are expected to speak the "male language".

Ubang people are extremely proud of their language difference but there are different theories about how it happened. "God created Adam and Eve and they were Ubang people," says the chief. "God's plan was to give each ethnic group two languages, but after creating the two languages for the Ubang, he realised that he simply didn't have enough languages to hand out. So he stopped," he explains.

"That's why Ubang has the benefit of two languages – we are different from other people in the world."

17) The male words are more difficult to pronounce than the female words.	17)
18) In Ubang, a man and a woman have no more problems understanding each other than, for example, a man and a woman in the UK.	18)
19) Boys learn the male language from their fathers.	19)

IN-FLIGHT INCIDENTS IN INDIA – MORE SERIOUS THAN FUNNY

A passenger has recently been taken off a domestic flight in India (0) _____ to charge his phone. The man, who was drunk, tried to enter the cockpit (21) _____ for Kolkata from the western city of Mumbai. He was eventually removed from the aircraft and handed over to police because of a security violation. Police later questioned the man (22) _____ .

The falling price of air tickets (23) _____ have led to a boom in domestic flights. Carriers say that there are a lot of first-time flyers, which also presents new challenges. One airline, Air Asia India, said it was producing a how-to video for new customers (24) _____ , from the need to show up on time to instructions on how to use an onboard toilet.

In another incident earlier this year, a Qatar Airways flight made an emergency landing in the southern city of Chennai, (25) _____ to unlock his phone, where she discovered evidence he was cheating on her. She reportedly began attacking her husband (26) _____ , the flight was forced to make an emergency stop.

The behaviour of the crew is not always perfect either. Jet Airways has suspended two pilots for five years after a male pilot slapped his female co-pilot during a flight to Mumbai. She reportedly stormed out of the cockpit (27) _____ , leaving the plane on auto-pilot.

DON'T OVERTHINK YOUR EXERCISE

With the explosion of boutique gyms, spin classes and ultramarathons, we may believe that exercise should (0) _____ both expensive and extreme. But researchers are finding that it really doesn't seem to matter what (1) _____ of physical activity you do to receive great health rewards.

Americans often complain that they don't have enough time to work out. A recent survey asked a group of them (2) _____ they would spend an extra four hours each week if they suddenly had the time. The number one answer? Exercise. But we often overthink exercise — and we may (3) _____ actually need to set aside extra time to work out. Exercise doesn't require a gym membership. Exercise is something you can do throughout the day, every day. It also doesn't need to be exhausting or to cost (4) _____ to see health benefits. Simply walking more counts (5) _____ lot.

Here are some tips how you can fill your day with more activity:

- if you use public transport, get (6) _____ a stop early on your way to work;
- if you (7) _____ , park far away from your destination;
- climb the stairs to your office or flat instead of (8) _____ the elevator;
- walk to the grocery store instead of driving.

CHAOS IN MINNESOTA

A group of young residents in Gilbert, Minnesota, who are (0) _____ (able) to handle their alcohol have been drifting around the town, looking disoriented and narrowly avoiding getting (9) _____ (hit) by cars. However, these aren't drunk teenagers. Instead, it's the local bird population.

"The Police Department has received several (10) _____ (report) of birds that seem to be 'under the influence of alcohol' flying into windows and cars and looking (11) _____ (confuse)," said Police Chief Ty Techar. "An early frost meant that berries had fermented (12) _____ (early) than usual, and birds were eating them and getting drunk."

Such incidents around town are more common than in past years, because many birds have not yet migrated south. As they prepare to fly south for winter, they may eat too many berries to store up fat for the journey. They go from bush to bush (13) _____ (try) to find more berries, and their balance is gradually getting worse. They are (14) _____ (typical) seen flying lower than usual through traffic. They're just (15) _____ (care) and they're not watching out for cars and other objects around them. Their silly (16) _____ (behave) is a sign that they're drunk. Welcome to the Listening component of the Matura Examination.

The listening material and the instructions are recorded on this CD, and the tasks and instructions are printed in your test booklet.

- There will be three tasks, and every recording will be played twice.
- The tasks will begin with some music, and then you will hear (and you can also read) the instructions to the task.
- This will be followed by a silent period on the CD in order to give you some time to look at the task in your test booklet before hearing the text.
- Then we will play the recording in one piece.
- After that, we will play the recording for the second time, but now in shorter sections and with breaks between the sections in order to give you enough time to write down your answers.

Please note that the first item in each task (marked with a tick [✓]) is always an example.

The whole test is exactly 30 minutes long.

Good luck!

Task 1

Your Scottish friend Rob invited you to stay with him during the Edinburgh Festival and take part in the unofficial programme of the Fringe (Alternative) Festival as a street performer. He sent you the advertisement with the following options:

Fringe Unofficial Street Performances

You can perform on three stages throughout the day. Each performance is 20 minutes long.

Living statues: Mime artists posing like statues, sometimes with realistic, statue-like make-up.

Portrait artists / caricaturists: Set up close to St. Giles on the Royal Mile drawing / painting festival visitors.

Musicians (instrumental and vocal): Pop, jazz, classical, folk. Individual performers and bands as well. Limited spaces and time slots for musicians who are particularly loud.

Task 2

You have received the following email from your Dutch friend, Max:

Hi – Look, I need some advice. As you know I've always been a couch-potato, but now that I'm at uni I'm feeling awkward with all the guys around me, fit and strong, going to the gym and working out daily or doing sports regularly. Even worse that it's not only that they do it but they talk about 'what's a good cardio' and 'what builds stamina' all the time. If I don't start a sport straight away, I'm sure I'll feel left out and I can only hope that it's not too late now. Honestly, I'm not sure how I'll have time for my studies (tests and assignments every week plus presentations, brrr) AND for a sport too.

Anyway, I've made up my mind so I'll give it a try. The main question is what sport to start? I can swim and there's always running but is that serious enough? Good for cardio and building stamina? Or shall I start something new? A friend of mine is doing wrestling and there's also a tennis club near the university.

What do you think? Any personal experience with sports you have done and been successful in? I'd appreciate your ideas ASAP.
Best,
Max

Write an email of 100-120 words to Max in which you include the following points:

- what you think of starting university and doing sports at the same time,
- how you feel about the sports he mentions,
- what other sports you would recommend (instead / in addition),
- if you have any personal experience with sports.
