Fontos tudnivalók

- Az utasításokat pontosan kell követni. Csak az utasításban megadott helyre beírt megoldás fogadható el.
- Mindig csak egy megoldást szabad beírni.
- A betűjelek legyenek jól olvashatóak, az esetleges javítások pedig egyértelműek.
- A megadott szószámot nem szabad túllépni. Az összevont alakok egy szónak számítanak (pl. "it's" egy szó, "it is" két szó).

A feladatlapban nem jelölt források a javítási-értékelési útmutatóban szerepelnek.

Task 1

- In the following article, the headings of the paragraphs have been removed.
- Your task is to write the letters of the titles (A-K) next to the appropriate numbers (1-6).
- There are three extra headings that you do not need.
- Write the letters in the white boxes as in the example (0).

THE BENEFITS OF SCHOOL STARTING LATER

The vast majority of schools start before 8:30 a.m. But who says they have to and what would be the consequences of school starting later?

(0) _____
With later school start times, students could accommodate their natural sleep-wake times – going to sleep past 11 p.m. and waking up around 8 or 9 a.m. –, which would give their body more time to repair itself.

(1) _____
A lack of sleep hurts brain function. Students who get more sleep have better learning capabilities and are better able to process what they learn. A 2018 study found that students in schools that pushed start times to 8:45 a.m. got slightly higher grades than before the change.

(2) _____
When running late in the mornings, breakfast is the first thing we skip. However, with this bad habit, students are left hungry. By school starting later, students would have the chance to have a proper breakfast.

(3) _____
Poor sleep leads to drowsiness, the cause of 1 in 10 car crashes, 27% of which involve teenage drivers. However, students with later school start times have more time to sleep sufficiently, thus are significantly more likely to drive more safely.

(4) _____
Teens experience mood swings as a common result of puberty; however, poor sleep only worsens their moods and may cause anxiety, stress, and irritability. When students sleep enough, they are more stable emotionally, and are less likely to have conflicts with their schoolmates.

(5) _____
Students with later school start times are more likely to be in better physical condition, because sleeping adequately decreases the likelihood of developing diabetes, obesity, or high blood pressure. It also allows their bodies to have enough time to repair at night.

(6) _____
Exhausted students may skip school to sleep more, but if altered school schedules permitted them to sleep longer, they'd be less likely to do so. A 2016 study found that in schools that started at 8:45 am, there was a 66% decrease in students arriving late or taking the day off.

Task 2

- Read this article about teenagers' brain development.
- Some parts of sentences have been left out from the text.
- Your task is to reconstruct the text by filling in the gaps (7-15) from the list (A-M) below.
- Write the letters in the white boxes next to the numbers as in the example (0).
- Remember that there are two extra letters that you do not need.

WHAT'S GOING ON IN THE TEENAGE BRAIN?

A child's body goes through physical changes that are obvious to all parents. Less obvious are the vital changes taking place in a child's brain, particularly as (0) _____ .

Teenagers confront challenges, stresses, and temptations with their brains not yet fully developed. It's not just that teenagers (7) _____ to acquire a wide sense of the world; quite simply, their brains just haven't physically matured yet.

Dealing with pressure and stress is no small challenge for a fully mature brain, and it's even harder for one that's (8) _____ and in transition from concrete to abstract thinking.

Not only that, but brain scans done on teenagers revealed that different parts of the brain mature at different rates. "In fact, some parts of the brain — such as the prefrontal cortex (PFC), which sits right behind the eyes — (9) _____ until 24 years old! Other parts of the brain, however, develop to be fully mature much earlier. Many neuroscientists think that this (10) _____ explains why adolescents are so emotional and impulsive," says Andrew Garner, member of the American Academy of Pediatrics Committee.

"The PFC plays an important role in regulating mood, attention, impulse control, and the ability to think abstractly — which includes the ability both (11) _____ and to see the consequences of one's actions," says Dr. Garner.

If you (12) _____ whether it is a good idea to get into a car with friends who are drunk, most will say 'no way.' This is because in calmer moments, the relatively slow PFC is able to think abstractly and see the potentially tragic consequences of (13) _____ . But, in the heat of the moment, thanks to the brain not being fully developed, there is a chance that the teen is going to (14) _____ .

That is why, suggests Dr. Garner, it is the job of parents and teachers to get teenagers to slow down and (15) _____ – and wait for the rest of their brains to develop.

0)	C

A) in dying their hair purple

B) to plan ahead

~~C) they enter their teenage years~~

D) help them think through what they are doing

E) haven't had the time and experience

F) mismatch in brain maturity

G) make the wrong decision

LEARN TO CREATE GREAT DISHES!

Whether you're looking to learn new recipes or improve your kitchen confidence, here are some of the best cooking classes to get you inspired.

Beautifully situated in Highland Perthshire and with spectacular views over the Tay Valley, Ballintaggart Farm has a reputation as a wonderful place to stay, eat and cook. Their cookery classes are suitable for individuals and small groups, and there is something for all abilities. The school even has rooms for those who want to stay overnight.

If you want to learn the secrets of authentic Indian cooking, then look no further than The Indian Cook School. Praveen Kumar and his wife, owners of the popular Tabla restaurant, share the delights of Indian food through their cookery lessons, which include six hours of hands-on teaching with a glass of wine and plenty to take home.

If your passion for food extends beyond cooking for friends, The New Town Cookery School runs a variety of professional courses for amateur chefs. These are specifically designed for people who are keen to perfect their skills with professional training and wish to become a professional cook.

Kaleyard is Glasgow's first non-profit cook school, and its mission statement is to "unite people through cooking and sharing food together". Using profits from its masterclasses and pop-up events, Kaleyard offers free cookery classes to different community groups.

The highly popular leisure cookery classes at The School of Food & Wine are aimed at the enthusiastic home chef who wants to improve their cooking skills for their own pleasure and that of their friends and family. You can opt for a grill course, where you will learn how to create delicious dishes outdoors.

The Dining Room is the best place to learn about bread and pastry. Besides the five-day bread making courses, the school schedule includes a polenta masterclass, and how to make an amazing layer cake or pork pie.

Award-winning School of Wok has an Asian focus and teaches students the fundamentals of oriental cookery. Classes at the School of Wok make an ideal present, or even a company team building day if you're looking to do something different with your colleagues. What is more, chef Lindsay will deliver one-to-one classes in the comfort of your own kitchen.

WOMAN GRADUATES 71 YEARS AFTER STARTING COLLEGE

A 90-year-old woman will finally walk across the stage and receive her diploma 71 years after she first enrolled in college.

(0) _____

But those plans changed when DeFauw met a special man at church who stole her heart. "I went to school for three and a half years, but decided to leave after I met him," DeFauw said.

(22) _____

DeFauw eventually got remarried to her late second husband, Roy DeFauw. Together they had six children. Throughout the years, her family grew, and she now has 17 grandchildren and 24 great-grandchildren.

(23) _____

"I guess I was upset that I didn't finish school and my grandchildren also encouraged me to go back," she said, so she enrolled back at Northern Illinois and began taking classes.

(24) _____

But this time around, things were much different for DeFauw. Instead of walking to campus, she attended classes from behind a computer screen her children gave her in her retirement home.

(25) _____

When the Covid-19 pandemic began in 2020, she was thankful for the computer. She was on her own during that time and could have no visitors.

(26) _____

Now, three years later, she'll put on the cap and gown and receive a Bachelor of General Studies degree from the university this weekend.

(27) _____

A) In the end, she realized that having a study partner is helpful in many ways: not only did DeFauw and Vanessa revise together before an exam, they also became good friends despite the age difference.

0)	C

B) DeFauw is thankful she had the opportunity to get to go back to school and get her degree. "It's nice to finish something you started," she said.

22)

~~C) Joyce DeFauw started her freshman year at Northern Illinois University in 1951 with a plan to graduate with a degree in home economics.~~

23)

D) Flash forward to 2019, when DeFauw showed interest in the college education she left behind.

E) "At times I wanted to quit, because I was really lonely. But I didn't." DeFauw said. She said she had plenty of encouragement from family, friends and the school.

24)

F) The special man was Don Freeman. The two got married in 1955, and had three children together before Freeman passed away, leaving her widowed for about five years.

25)

G) "When we made calls to the school, they were shocked to hear we were asking about a student from the 50s," one of her granddaughters said.

26)

H) She planned to write her thesis about getting a degree in old age. "Believe it or not, I'm not the only one," she says, laughing.

27)

I) "It was my first computer," DeFauw said. "My children had to teach me how to use it."

This is the end of this part of the exam.

FRENCH BAGUETTE GETS UNESCO HERITAGE STATUS

There are few things (0) _____ uniquely French than the humble baguette. (10) _____ , the baguette has been in decline in recent years, as traditional bakeries struggle against the rise of large supermarkets and the increasing popularity of sourdough.

But now (11) _____ to celebrate, as UNESCO adds the baguette to its cultural heritage list. The body announced that it (12) _____ "the special know-how and culture of baguette bread" to its list of 600 other items, joining things like traditional tea making in China and a Korean mask dance – both also included for the first time in 2022.

Its inclusion "celebrates the French way of life," UNESCO chief Audrey Asoulay said, adding: "The baguette is a daily ritual, a structuring element of the meal, (13) _____ to sharing and joy."

The exact origin of the baguette is not known. Some suggest the bread was ordered by Napoleon because it would be easier for soldiers to carry, (14) _____ others suggest it came along later – an easy bread for workers to tear and share without the need of a knife in Paris. Others still credit an Austrian baker in the 1830s for its shape.

(15) _____ , the baguette as we know it today was only officially named just over 100 years ago, in 1920. It was then that strict rules about what classed as a baguette were put in place – standardised at 80cm and 250g. It even had a fixed price until 1986.

By the middle of the 20th century, the baguette had won over the country. (16) _____ the fact that since 1970 400 artisanal bakeries have closed down each year, the baguette remains key to French identity. Parisian baker Priscilla Hayertz acknowledged to AFP that it was "a basic product" but one "that affects all socio-cultural categories, (17) _____ you're rich or poor... it doesn't matter, everyone eats baguettes."

Welcome to the Listening component of the Matura Examination.

The listening material and the instructions are recorded on this CD, and the tasks and instructions are printed in your test booklet.

- There will be three tasks, and every recording will be played twice.
- The tasks will begin with some music, and then you will hear (and you can also read) the instructions to the task.
- This will be followed by a silent period on the CD in order to give you some time to look at the task in your test booklet before hearing the text.
- Then we will play the recording in one piece.
- After another short silent period, we will play the recording for the second time, but now in shorter sections and with breaks between the sections in order to give you enough time to write down your answers.

Please note that the first item in each task (marked with a tick [✓]) is always an example.

The whole test is exactly 30 minutes long.

Good luck!

TASK 1

- In this section, you will hear the story of Britain's most famous talking bird, Sparkie, the budgie.
- Your task will be to decide whether the following statements are true, false or we do not know because the text does not say, and write the appropriate letter in the boxes on the right. Write A if the statement is true, write B if the statement is false, and write C if the text does not say.
- First, you will have some time to look at the task, and then we will play the whole recording in one piece.
- Then, you will hear the recording again, but this time we will play the text in shorter sections to give you enough time to write down your answers.
- A = TRUE B = FALSE C = THE TEXT DOES NOT SAY

✓ The voice of the talking budgie can be heard in a Tyneside recorded archive. A

1. In the photo above we can see Sparkie and his owner when the bird was still alive. ☐
2. The stuffed body of Sparkie can be seen in a museum in Newcastle. ☐
3. Sparkie died at an extremely young age for a budgie. ☐
4. Sparkie was able to 'say' eight full nursery rhymes. ☐
5. Geordie is the local dialect used by people in the area. ☐
6. A record with Sparkie's voice on it reached the top of the charts in 1958. ☐
7. Sparkie's amazing ability was the result of regular training by his owner. ☐
8. Sparkie is not listed as a record holder in the Guinness Book of Records any longer. ☐

That is the end of TASK 1.

Fontos tudnivalók

Mindkét feladatot meg kell írni!
A pontozott sorokra kell írni!
Ügyeljen a megadott szószámra! Amennyiben a létrehozott szöveg jelentősen eltér (rövidebb, hosszabb) a megadott szóintervallumtól, az pontlevonással jár.

A feladatlapban nem jelölt források a javítási-értékelési útmutatóban szerepelnek.

Task 1

You are a visiting student at the University of Pittsburgh, US, and when one of your friends posts a couple of photos of himself skating and having a great time, you decide to have a go yourself. You have found the following advertisement:

Ice skating courses for adults in Pittsburgh

Whether you're reigniting a childhood passion or just beginning your skating journey, Learn to Skate Pittsburgh® wants everyone to enjoy the magic of skating. The Adult curriculum is for anyone who wishes to improve their skills; it is designed for both beginning and experienced adult skaters, and you can join at the rink of your choice.

Participation in the program will help promote physical fitness and improve balance and coordination while teaching proper skating techniques. This is an exciting program for people who look at skating as an enjoyable part of a fit and healthy lifestyle.

Send us an email and tell us about your level and what course you have in mind. You can join a group or opt for individual coaching. We will find a tailored course for you near you wherever you live in Pittsburgh! You needn't worry about the weather, as apart from outdoor rinks we can offer climatised indoor rinks open all year round as well.

Contact Carl: carl.hagen@learntoskatepittsburgh.us

Write an email of 120-150 words to Carl in which you

- tell him about the level of your skating skills,
- say what kind of course you would like to take part in and how frequently you can go,
- ask about the length of sessions, the necessary equipment, and fees.

Begin your email like this:

Task 2

You have found the following post on the internet forum Do you believe in the paranormal?

My parents originally came from Poland, and I travelled a lot in my childhood. I have been living and studying in England since I was 12 and now I'm 17, preparing for my A-levels. My aunt Elvira has always been worried about my future since I attended so many different schools in different countries when I was younger. So, she decided to take me to this fortune teller whose speciality is diagnosing diseases just by holding your hand, as well as predicting your future (at least key events). The guy lives in a tiny village and has never travelled outside of it, nor does he have access to the internet. And, according to my aunt, unlike others who claim to be able to foresee the future, he's a REAL clairvoyant and very good at his job.

With the exams coming up you become superstitious looking for 'signs' even if you are pretty sceptical otherwise, so I thought why not? It sounded fun, a good way of both distracting myself and experiencing something new maybe.

However, as the day is approaching, I'm beginning to have doubts about whether it is really a good idea. If he predicts all sorts of positive things which never come true, well, I'll be able to live with that. But what if he predicts that I'll fail my exams or something even worse? Someone I love falling ill? Dying even? Will I be able to ignore it and continue my life without thinking about it all the time?

What should I do now? Shall I tell my aunt about my fears and make her cancel the appointment? What would you do?

Ida

Write a post of 200-250 words replying to Ida in which you tell her

- what you think of paranormal abilities in general,
- whether you know anyone who has had their future told,
- if you think Ida's aunt's suggestion is a good idea,
- what you think Ida should do.
